has been built	pres. perfect
had been built	past perfect
will be built	future

2 Modales

- modal + be + participio:
- It must be done today.

Explicación · Explanation

Lee cada recuadro despacio. Primero en español, luego en inglés. Read each box slowly: first in Spanish, then in English.

¿Qué es? · What is it?

La voz pasiva pone en el centro la acción o la persona / cosa que la recibe, no a quien la hace. Ya conoces la pasiva en presente y pasado simple (is made, was built). En B2 la usamos en todos los tiempos, con modales, con -ing e infinitivo, en la estructura have / get something done y en frases impersonales del tipo It is said that… El truco es siempre el mismo: be se pone en el tiempo de la frase activa y el verbo principal va en participio.

The passive focuses on the action or on the person / thing affected. Put be in the same tense as the active verb + past participle.

Sujeto + be + participio + (by + agente)

La pasiva en todos los tiempos · The passive in all tenses

Tiempo · Tense	Activa · Active	Pasiva · Passive	Traducción
present simple	They clean the office.	The office is cleaned.	Se limpia la oficina.
present continuous	They are cleaning the office.	The office is being cleaned.	Están limpiando la oficina.
past simple	They cleaned the office.	The office was cleaned.	Limpiaron la oficina.
past continuous	They were cleaning the office.	The office was being cleaned.	Estaban limpiando la oficina.
present perfect	They have cleaned the office.	The office has been cleaned.	Han limpiado la oficina.
past perfect	They had cleaned the office.	The office had been cleaned.	Habían limpiado la oficina.
will	They will clean the office.	The office will be cleaned.	Limpiarán la oficina.
going to	They're going to clean the office.	The office is going to be cleaned.	Van a limpiar la oficina.
future perfect	They will have cleaned it by 9.	It will have been cleaned by 9.	La habrán limpiado para las 9.
modal	They must clean the office.	The office must be cleaned.	Hay que limpiar la oficina.

La pasiva en todos los tiempos · The passive in all tenses (continúa · cont.)

Tiempo · Tense	Activa · Active	Pasiva · Passive	Traducción
modal perfect	They should have cleaned it.	It should have been cleaned.	Deberían haberla limpiado.

Los tiempos perfect continuous (has been being cleaned) casi no se usan en pasiva: suenan muy raros. Fíjate en la última columna: en español solemos traducir la pasiva con se o con la 3.ª persona del plural (limpiaron).

Perfect continuous passives are very rare. Spanish often uses se or an impersonal they instead.

1 · Continuos y perfectos: being / been · Continuous and perfect: being / been Dos palabras que se confunden mucho: being aparece en los tiempos continuos (is being repaired = lo están reparando ahora) y been en los perfectos (has been repaired = ya lo han reparado). Truco: continuo → being · perfecto → been.

Continuous passive: be + being + participle. Perfect passive: have + been + participle.

am / is / are / was / were + being + participio have / has / had + been + participio

My car is being repaired at the moment.
→ Me están arreglando el coche ahora mismo.

The match was being shown on TV when the power went off.
→ Estaban retransmitiendo el partido cuando se fue la luz.

Three people have been arrested after the robbery.
→ Han detenido a tres personas tras el robo.

De activa a pasiva, paso a paso · From active to passive

1. Busca el objeto de la frase activa: será el sujeto de la pasiva. They are building a bridge.
   Find the object: it becomes the subject.
2. Mira el tiempo del verbo activo: are building = present continuous.
   Identify the tense of the active verb.
3. Pon be en ese mismo tiempo, concordando con el nuevo sujeto: is being.
   Put be in the same tense.
4. Añade el participio del verbo principal: A bridge is being built.
   Add the past participle.
5. ¿Importa quién lo hace? Solo entonces añade by + agente. Si es people, they, someone, quítalo.
   Add by + agent only if it matters.
6. Revisa: ¿being (continuo) o been (perfecto)? ¿Concordancia is / are?
   Check being / been and is / are.

2 · Modales en pasiva · Modal passives

Después de un modal (can, could, must, should, may, might, will, would) y de have to, ponemos be + participio. Para hablar del pasado (críticas, deducciones, posibilidades) usamos modal + have been + participio. Es muy típico en normas, avisos y textos de trabajo.

Modal + be + participle. Past: modal + have been + participle.

modal + be + participio

modal + have been + participio

Mobile phones must be switched off during the exam.
→ Los móviles deben estar apagados durante el examen.

The report should have been sent yesterday.
→ El informe debería haberse enviado ayer.

The problem can't be solved without more money.
→ El problema no se puede resolver sin más dinero.

Truco: el «se» español · Tip: Spanish «se»

Cuando en español digas se + verbo (se habla, se venden, se construyó) o uses la 3.ª persona del plural sin sujeto (me robaron, lo arreglaron), piensa en la pasiva inglesa: English is spoken, flats are sold, my phone was stolen, it was fixed.

Spanish se + verb or impersonal they → English passive.

3 · Negativas y preguntas · Negatives and questions

La negación y las preguntas se hacen con el primer auxiliar: hasn't been, wasn't being, won't be. En las preguntas, ese auxiliar salta delante del sujeto: Has it been sent? Si preguntas por el agente, by va al final: Who was it written by?

Negatives and questions use the first auxiliary: It hasn't been sent. Has it been sent?

Has + sujeto + been + participio…?

sujeto + hasn't been + participio

Has the package been delivered yet?
→ ¿Ya han entregado el paquete?

The new hospital won't be finished until 2028.
→ El nuevo hospital no estará terminado hasta 2028.

Who was this song written by?
→ ¿Quién escribió esta canción?

📖 Explicación · Explanation | Nivel B2

4 · -ing e infinitivo en pasiva · Passive -ing and infinitive

Los verbos seguidos de -ing o de to + infinitivo también tienen pasiva: being + participio y to be + participio. Sirven para cosas que nos hacen otros: odio que me interrumpan (el español usa que + subjuntivo).

Passive gerund: being + participle. Passive infinitive: to be + participle.

verbo + being + participio

verbo + to be + participio

I hate being interrupted when I'm speaking.
→ Odio que me interrumpan cuando hablo.

She hopes to be promoted next year.
→ Espera que la asciendan el año que viene.

Nobody likes being criticised in public.
→ A nadie le gusta que lo critiquen en público.

5 · Verbos con dos objetos · Verbs with two objects

Con give, send, offer, show, tell, teach, pay, la persona suele ser el sujeto de la pasiva: I was given a present (= me regalaron). En español esto no existe (~~yo fui dado~~). A present was given to me también es posible, pero menos natural.

With give, send, offer, show, tell… the person usually becomes the subject.

I was given a watch for my birthday.
→ Me regalaron un reloj por mi cumpleaños.

We were shown round the factory.
→ Nos enseñaron la fábrica.

She has been offered a job in Toronto.
→ Le han ofrecido un trabajo en Toronto.

6 · have / get something done · Have / get something done

Usamos have + objeto + participio cuando otra persona hace algo por nosotros, normalmente porque le pagamos: me corto el pelo (en la peluquería) = I have my hair cut. Get significa lo mismo, pero es más informal. Have se conjuga en todos los tiempos (I'm having, I had, I've had, I'm going to have…) y en preguntas y negativas necesita do / does / did: Did you have your car serviced? También se usa para cosas malas que nos pasan: He had his wallet stolen.

have / get + object + past participle: someone else does it for us (or something bad happens to us).

have / get + objeto + participio

I had my hair cut yesterday.
→ Ayer me corté el pelo (en la peluquería).

We're getting the kitchen painted next week.
→ La semana que viene nos pintan la cocina.

She had her bag stolen on the underground.
→ Le robaron el bolso en el metro.

Stolen painting found in a garage

A painting stolen from a museum in Lyon in 1998 has finally been found — in a garage in the south of England. The small landscape, by a 19th-century French artist, is thought to be worth around £2 million.

The work was discovered last month while a house was being sold after the owner's death. It had been wrapped in an old blanket and hidden behind some boxes. Nobody in the family is believed to have known about it.

The painting is now being examined by experts in London, and it will be returned to the museum next spring. "We never thought it would be seen again," said the museum director. "It's going to be shown in a special exhibition."
